RAIL UNIONS CALL STRIKE

Sept. 11 Date Set; Leaders Claim 98.7 Per Cent of Workers Approve

[By Associated Press]
CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Mediation of the wage dispute between the nation's major railroads and their 1,250,000 employees ended in failure today, less than three hours after the employees had given a general strike authorization to their 19 unions.

In announcing that attempts to reach an amicable settlement of the dispute had ended, the national railway mediation board disclosed that an offer of arbitration had been rejected by the unions.

This brings the controversy to President Roosevelt, who has the authority to appoint an emergency fact finding board.

No strike may be put into effect until at least 30 days after this board has made its report.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Chieftains of 19 railroad unions announced today they had been authorized to call a nationwide strike in an effort to enforce demands for wage increases.

Heads of the non-operating unions with a membership of approximately 900,000 set Sept. 11 as the date for a strike. Officials of the five operating groups said that 98.7 of their 350,000 members voted in favor of a strike.

Show Strike Figures

Leaders of the operating unions reported that preliminary figures on a strike authorization vote showed that out of 287,000 votes cast, 283,429 were for a strike and 3,571 were against.

Alvan Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said that the operating unions would announce a date for a strike within three days.

Johnston said that the operating unions undoubtedly would reject a proposal to arbitrate the dispute.

Johnston said the carriers made a final wage offer before the strike vote was announced. He said that it was so complicated "we consider it no offer at all."

Ballots on the question of authorizing a strike were in the mails.

Husking Contest Scheduled Oct. 18

LISBON, Sept. 5.—The Columbiana county corn husking contest will be held on Saturday, Oct. 18, according to an announcement made today by County Agricultural Agent Floyd Lower.

The place of the contest has not yet been determined. Farmers who have suitable fields and who are interested in having the committee inspect the fields with a view to holding the contest should report to Mr. Lower's office not later than Friday, Sept. 12.

The field to be selected should have 15 or 16 shock rows of corn with 30 or more stalks per row. It should be a uniform field of good corn and be so located as to be suitable for the contest.

Veteran Probation Officer Dies This Morning At Brecksville

ENGAGED IN COUNTY WORK FOR 15 YEARS

Took Active Interest In Problems of Young Delinquents

James Herbert McCready, of 1284 E. Third st., Columbiana county probation officer for the last 15 years and active in juvenile work in the county, died suddenly at 8 a. m. today at the veterans' hospital at Brecksville of complications following an operation. He was 64.

He entered the hospital three weeks ago and was on the road to recovery when pleurisy developed. Born Oct. 24, 1876, in Lawrence county, near New Castle, Pa., he was the son of Hugh J. and Charlotte Paden McCready. He spent his early life in East Palestine.

Schooled In E. Palestine
He was a graduate of East Palestine High school and Mt. Hope academy.

Mr. McCready was married in 1910 at Wheeling, W. Va., to Anna Mercedes Sinclair. He had served as probation officer under Judges Lodge Riddle and H. W. Hammond, always taking an interest in the problems of delinquent boys and girls. He often said "crime prevention must begin in the high chair, not the electric chair. A man who made both a career and a hobby of 'liking bad boys,' he had remarked that parental ignorance and unpreparedness is the basic cause behind much of the crime today.

A veteran of the Spanish-American war, he was a member of the Masonic lodge and Eastern Stars at Turn to J. H. M'CREADY, Page 8.

First Tents Go Up For Fair At Lisbon

LISBON, Sept. 5.—The arrival of the first concession tents on the grounds Thursday heralded the approach of the 96th annual Columbiana county fair which will open next Tuesday for four days.

Exhibits will be placed on the first day with the fair proper beginning on Wednesday with the usual program of events arranged for both Wednesday and Thursday, including horse pulling contests, the Klein Shows, concluding each evening with a brilliant display of fireworks.

Friday's program will follow much the pattern of the preceding days, with the exception that pony, bicycle and running races for boys and girls will replace the horse racing events of the afternoon. The day, having been designated as "Kiddies' day," in addition to free admissions for school children, will have special attractions and concerts by various High school bands, which have been especially invited.

Racing barns are filled to capacity, already insuring a fine field of starters in each of the three events on both days, and livestock entries in both 4-H club and open classes are exceeding previous years. It is stated by Secretary J. H. Sinclair.

Seven granges have also signified their intentions of competing for prizes totaling $120 in the senior division, and $50 in the juvenile division.

Commander and Type of Destroyer Attacked by Sub

Lieut. Commander Laurence Frost, skipper of the destroyer U. S. S. Greer which successfully fought off a submarine-torpedo attack near Iceland, is pictured above, with the U. S. S. Roper, sister ship of the Greer. The nationality of the attacking submarine was not disclosed by Commander Frost, but U. S. naval officials considered it obvious that the craft was of Axis origin, most likely German.

'TAKE IT EASY', URGES WRITER

Possibility of Mistake Seen In Torpedo Attack On U. S. Destroyer

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Confucius in his boundless wisdom doubtless would advise us to 'take it easy' in reaching conclusions about the mystery of the submarine attack on the United States destroyer Greer.

If for the sake of argument we adopt the British idea that it was a German U-boat which fired the torpedoes, then the question immediately arises whether the action wasn't the result of a mistake.

There has been no indication that Herr Hitler wants to see America in the European war, although he might be praying that we become involved in the Orient.

His reason is that he likely will undertake major operations in the Mediterranean in the near future; he presumably will intensify his U-boat campaign in the battle of the Atlantic; and he doesn't want American warships supporting the British when the Allies invade the continent.

Plenty of Trouble
In short, the Nazi chief has plenty of trouble on his hands already—and so much for that. The British invasion, by the way, probably won't be tried before spring, unless unexpected developments in the Russo-Nazi war make it advisable for Britain to strike sooner. Meanwhile the bloodletting which the Nazis are unleashing in Russia is paving the way for the Allied assault across the English channel.

Sanguinary fighting continues throughout the entire length of the great battle-line in Russia. The authoritative German commentary Dienst aus Deutschland COLUMBIANA, Sept. 5.—Sheriff George Hayes went to Bowling Green today to bring back Eugene Smith, who stole $35 from the Corey gas station. Smith faces a grand larceny charge.

Police at Bowling Green apprehended Smith, who had been given a job by Corey shortly before he rifled the cash register.

LONDON PRESSES ITS CASE FOR WAR

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The London Evening Press seized on the submarine attack on the U. S. S. Greer today to argue that the United States should put herself fully at the British side.

The Evening News called the submarine attack a pointed reminder that the United States' geographical isolation "rapidly is being threatened."

The Evening Standard comments that "Canada, with the Atlantic dividing her from the battlefield, still realized the 'folly of waiting passively for our turn to come'."

"We think the same logic applies to the United States," the newspaper added. "Today a German torpedo puts the case with inescapable force."

KILL AMENDMENT TO NEW TAX BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The senate killed today an amendment to the record-breaking tax bill which would have prevented husbands and wives in community property states from splitting income in order to reduce taxes.

Defeat of the amendment on a voice vote cleared the way for final action on the tax measure today. The amendment was rejected after leaders, confronted with an extended fight, abandoned their efforts to obtain its adoption. The amendment had been proposed by the senate's finance committee.

Committee Chairman George (D-Ga.) announced that the proposal, estimated to yield $50,000,000 annually, would be considered later on in another measure.

Elimination of the proposal brought the total of the tax bill down to $3,583,900,000. That still was a record high, however, and was $367,500,000 over the house-approved total.

YOUTH FLEES POLICE, SHOT

Industrial School Parolee Wounded; Questioned On Auto Thefts

Frank Rohan, 16, a parolee from the Boys Industrial school at Lancaster, was shot and wounded by Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer when the youth fled as the chief sought to question him in front of the Stark Terminal, N. Ellsworth ave., at 8:45 a. m. today.

The shooting took place as persons boarding a bus at the depot and others inside the terminal looked on. A woman attendant at the lunch counter in the place was so badly frightened that she fainted.

Chief Stoffer fired first into the air when Rohan twisted from the officer's grasp and ran around the corner of the bus terminal and started toward N. Howard st. A second shot brought him down.

When the chief asked him why he ran, the youth is said to have answered "I don't like you policemen."

At Salem City hospital, the 38 calibre bullet was found to have lodged against a hip bone. Assistant County Prosecutor James F. Elliot questioned Rohan at the hospital in connection with the thefts of articles from automobiles here. It was for that reason that Chief Stoffer sought to question him at the bus depot.

Employees of the Bliss Co., whose parking lot has been the scene of automobile looting of late, saw someone going through several cars early this morning and gave police a description of the man.

The description tallied with that of Rohan's, who had been suspected previously by police. Shortly afterwards, Patrolman

ATTACK MADE ON DESTROYER ON ATLANTIC

FDR Reveals More Than One Attempt To Sink U. S. Vessel

TORPEDOES FIRED IN CLEAR DAYLIGHT

Approves Commander's Action in Dropping Powerful Depth Bombs

[By Associated Press]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—President Roosevelt said today that the United States destroyer Greer had been attacked more than once, that steps were being taken to track down the marauding submarine, and that the vessel would be destroyed if found.

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking to a press conference, did not say exactly how many attacks had been made on the vessel, which was carrying mail to Iceland. But, he said, they occurred in daylight, and definitely on the American side of the ocean.

He said that while the Greer was alone at the time torpedoes were launched at her with no other American ships nearby, she was clearly marked, and carried an identification number, plus an American flag.

"Eliminated," If Found
Asked what would be done if the attacking vessel were found, Mr. Roosevelt said he supposed American forces would "eliminate" it or try to. He authorized direct use of the world eliminate and said it was a good one.

The chief executive said the Greer was attacked under conditions of good daylight and visibility. The navy department had announced torpedoes were launched at her yesterday morning and that the destroyer promptly dropped depth charges.

Mr. Roosevelt did not say whether all the attacks occurred within a relatively short time yesterday morning or were spaced at intervals.

He left little doubt that he approved the action of the commander in taking immediate steps against the submarine by dropping powerful depth charges.

Mr. Roosevelt said it was very fortunate the destroyer was not hit, remarking that it was beyond his power to say why the aim of the submarine was so poor. He would not disclose whether the undersea craft's periscope was above water, declaring he could not talk about that.

TRANSITION TO A WAR ECONOMY

With the easy confidence of the famous young man on the flying trapeze, Uncle Sam has made the transition from a peacetime economy to a war boom. But a war boom is only the first exhilarating sensation of the stunt billed on the program. The hard part is still ahead—the part where the United States of America goes flying through the air to success—or the ground below.

Transition to a war economy, as the White House has explained officially, calls for "cutting off the fat and hardening the muscles" of civilians. Before the act has been completed, Uncle Sam must do a two and a-half turn forward somersault in mid-air and grasp the outstretched hands of the strong man on the other trapeze—the strong man known as Mars. At some future date, moreover, the same thing must be done in reverse. Americans would like to remind politicians that their fat must come off, too.

The thing that makes it especially tough is the fact the United States has been living too well; it is too soft to take hardship and extreme exertion without grunting, groaning and grumping. The same privations that Germans, for instance, have accepted as a matter of course for years, because they were thinking of nothing else but war, seem impossibly cruel to Americans who had devoted most of their ingenuity and effort to the dream of peace and a constantly higher standard of living.

They can make the transition. That cannot be questioned. But it would be the blindest kind of folly not to be aware of the possibility of failure. There is no other way to locate the pitfalls and hindrances. There is no other way to drive home the danger that lies in wait for any nation that prepares halfheartedly to weather the consequences of defending its sovereignty in an era of militarism.

The American people must have confidence in their leaders and in themselves. They must hold unceasingly to the attitude that they will do whatever it is necessary to do to bring to a successful conclusion what they have begun. Above all, they must have the kind of leadership that will keep their responsibilities constantly in sharp focus, that will tell them clearly what needs to be done and furnish them with effectual direction.

THE VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

Dictatorial plans for the United States of Europe are in process of formation, according to the dictatorial propagandists. If the planners want to get the benefit of experience on the matter, they will begin by looking up on the history of the United States.

This is the most successful federation in the business, but it was a hard row to hoe. After 150 years it is still having its ups and downs and jealousies and knifings and minor and major frictions—and this is true despite the fact that all members started with the same idea.

They yearned for freedom from political domination by remote control. They were as touchy about that as Job was in the midst of his ordeal with the boils. When their representatives hammered out a Constitution, it had to be made palatable right off the bat by inclusion of a Bill of Rights.

This gave the members of the federation a safeguard against swapping remote-control political domination for the homegrown variety. But even then the problems of federation remained seemingly insoluble and finally brought on the catastrophe of the Civil war, whose scars still throb painfully when the wind is from the south.

In the long view the only thing that made federation-work as well as it seems to work when it's working best was the recurrent disposition on the part of the most farsighted to follow a policy of live and let live. Its darkest hours occurred when skinflints and chowderheads tried to lord it over somebody.

The prospect for European federation under dictatorship, in a word, is not bright. There can be no federation except among equals, and the planners of the new Europe have revealed too plainly their disbelief in the principle of equality in political organization.

RAILROAD STRIKE THREATENED

Nothing could play more hob with American production at this time than a railroad strike. Yet, despite the probability of a decision by railroad workers to call a strike, there is as yet no panic. The reason is, of course, the elaborate machinery set up to mediate railroad labor problems.

It was a foregone conclusion that railroad employees would authorize their leaders to call a strike in order to gain a compromise with management on their wage demands. But a strike vote by railroad employees does not mean a stoppage of work. It is only the first of several steps in the procedure of settling railroad disputes.

There are provisions for conferences between representatives of the parties directly involved, mediation between representatives of the parties, voluntary arbitration and, as a last resort, investigation and recommendations by a presidential board. The last general railroad strike in the United States happened in 1922; since then, labor's demands have been arbitrated without work stoppages. In 1926, the railroad labor act was passed. In 1938, when railroad management demanded a 15 percent wage reduction, the issue was forced into the hands of a presidential committee. When the committee recommended against any reduction, the recommendation was followed. This was the only time that a general emergency board, the last procedural step under the railroad labor act, had to be appointed.

BRAWN AND BRAIN EXHIBITION

Football may be good for what ails us this year, because football has been responsible for the now wavering belief in the clear-cut supremacy of America's young manhood.

Since the close of last football season, however, Americans have been told that their young men are scarcely more than hollow shells. They have more things wrong with them than the village hypochondriac, say the critics.

It's a wonder they are able to get around at all. Analytical big brains have been saying it's next door to a national scandal the way American young manhood has been going to seed, patent breakfast foods to the contrary notwithstanding.

It will be a refreshing change the next few months to watch the incredible capers of young fellows weighing in the neighborhood of 200 lbs., swift as gazelles, graceful as deer, cunning as foxes, tireless as Indians, and coached to work together in a manner that makes almost any game played by the young bucks of any other country look like field hockey by the first year scrubs in a women's junior college.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, September 6

CONFLICTING and deceptive testimonies may be found among this day's stellar influences. While there is promise of reward for faithful and energetic attention to affairs in hand, with augury of much solid ground to be found in perplexing situations through hard work, sound policies and proper practical details and executive ability yet there is an undercurrent that is misleading, cunning and fraudulent.

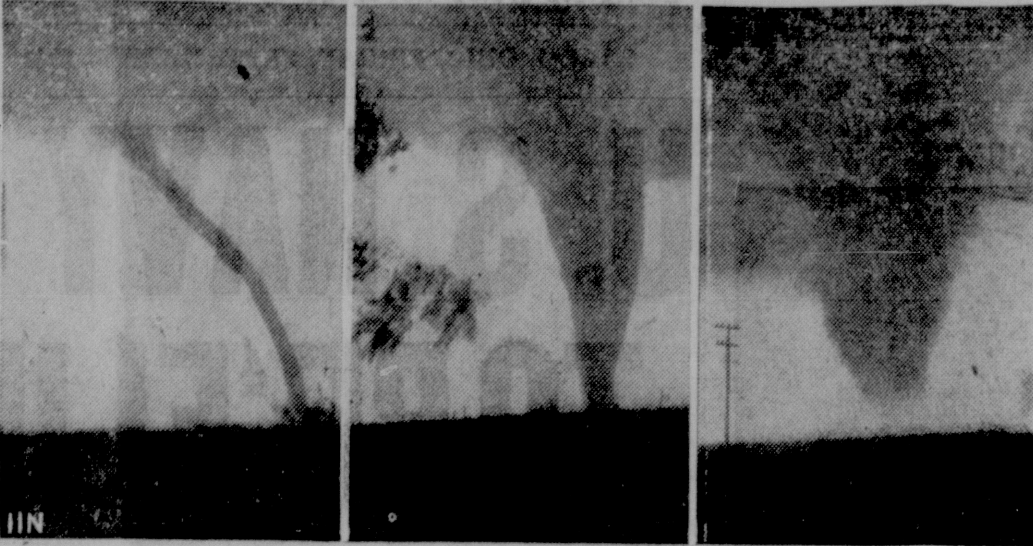

Those whose birthday it is may be promised some worthwhile achievement and enduring good by close adherence to business, by properly directed and practical application of sound methods and policies as well as indomitable persistence. Extreme precaution should be exercised against intrigue, duplicity, imposition and deep laid schemes as well as extravagance.

A child born on this day, although it has ability and energy, with promise of success through concentrated effort, yet may squander its chances and its substance on pleasure, indulgences or unworthy alliances.

Elmer Adams can imagine that away back there 5,000 years ago there were people who said: "There will always be a Babylon." So they did nothing about it.

Whatever is done to Adolfin, when he bumps into the inevitable, should likewise be visited upon those who use him to bring about the fulfillment of their vile purposes.

Photos Show Tornado's Short-Lived History

First strikes ground, hits school

Height of its fury

Starts to break up

These three remarkable pictures showing the formation, fury and break-up of a tornado that swept across Marion county, Kansas, were taken by Mrs. Omer Shields, who stood her ground as the twister approached. The photo at left shows the twister as it first struck the ground three miles away and destroyed the new Highland rural school. The center picture was snapped as it reached its full force, smashing a path of destruction through Lincolnville, one mile away. As the twister came within half a mile of her, right, Mrs. Shields took the last picture, which shows the funnel beginning to veer away and break up.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL ARE URGED

Clendening Continues Campaign Against Grid Game

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The appalling incidence of injuries among football players is the most serious indictment of the game. We recently gave the figures, which were not complete, on the casualties for 1940. There were nine deaths, two amputations, and a holocaust of broken backs, legs, hips, shoulders, ruptured kidneys and other internal injuries.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Less important objections to football are that it is honeycombed with shifty practices and it has become so technical and rule burdened that it is not only boring but positively painful to watch a game.

Debauches Ethical Standards. How can the ethical standards of a young man who is playing football fail to be debauched when he sees what is going on around him? College football has long ceased to have any amateur standing.

I can speak of this out of one incident from my own experience. A man came to me a year or two ago and said: "I have a son who wants to study medicine and I know you are on the faculty of the medical school of the university. The boy has been a star football player in high school and college. In fact while he was in high school he got plenty of offers from college teams for free tuition and easy jobs while in college. Now he can play at least two years more university football. But we are all through with the romantic stuff. This is practical. What will your school do about free tuition, jobs with good pay and practically no work, and going light on examination questions?" I told him we were not practical, so far at least as I knew.

A Player's Opinion. So far as the boredom is concerned, I need not rely on my own experience.

I quote from a letter: "I am an old football player, and used to be a coach and an official. A year ago I was in an unfamiliar part of the country and invited to go to a football game. It was the first one I had seen for several years—one of the very few I had seen from the stands. Always before I had been either a player or a coach. I thought the game I witnessed that day the most boring I had ever seen. I did not know half the time what was going on. That is why so many persons bring their portable radio sets to the game. They want to know what the official interpretation is. I thought it was a dumb exhibition."

The Doctor's Suggestions. I am asked sneeringly what my suggestions for reform are. Here they are. First: Eliminate high school football entirely; two-thirds of the casualties are in high school because at that age the bones are too soft and serious injuries more likely to be sustained. Besides with no high school football it removes the temptation for the college scouts to make attractive offers.

Second: do not pay a salary to any football coach. Let the old stars work for love. This might help restore the amateur standing of football.

Third: Do away with rules about off-side play and holding. In fact any rule that requires the interpretation of a referee. Let it be catch as catch can.

Fourth: No huddles.

Fifth: Substitute Rugby—a better, healthier and safer game and one which extends the benefits of outdoor exercise to more students.

Collector Issues Four Leaf Clover To All Newlyweds

ST. IGNACE, Mich.—There probably would be grass growing in the streets of Reno if all county clerks and the anti-divorce prescription of Bob Daly.

Daly has been giving a four-leaf clover with every wedding license issued in Mackinac county during the past five years. Of the 500 couples who received his treatment only a handful ended in the divorce court, giving the county what Daly claims is the lowest divorce rate in Michigan.

This devotee of lady luck began collecting her tokens several years ago. He would stop to pick them on his way to work. At first he merely placed them in a glass of water or gave them to his friends.

Then he turned the magic powers of the four-leaf clover to the promotion of marital happiness. One day he placed a clover in the lapel of a bridegroom and started a practice that has become famous.

Newlyweds weren't the only seekers of good luck, and Daly was deluged with requests for his clovers from Europe, Australia and Asia. Some went to persons celebrating wedding anniversaries, particularly those over 50 years. Others went to people who just needed a good turn from fortune.

A nearby island replenished the rapidly depleting supply of Daly clover during its first wave of popularity. But soon natural sources were no longer adequate. Daly began cultivating his own stock.

Uses Window Boxes

Pets and window boxes in his office now abound with the tiny good luck plants. He reveals that a single plant has borne as many as 48 of the magic four leaves. One transplant produced 100. Each summer he harvests them and stores them away for winter use and for insurance against poor growing seasons.

Daly doesn't contend that his policy of a "four-leaf clover with every wedding license" is infallible protection against marriage failure. But he says it doesn't do any harm, and if the record of Mackinac county's successful marriages means anything, there actually may be some charm in his four-leaf clovers.

Chinese Clean-Up Squads Probe For Unexploded Bombs

CHUNGKING—While the heroism of London's suicide squads which dig up unexploded bombs has been praised throughout the world, in Chungking for three years the cleanup squads have been taking the task of unearthing duds more or less as a matter of course.

With a fairly high percentage of duds falling after every raid, there are numerous unexplained holes which must be probed and explored to ascertain if they were caused by a bomb. Fortified by the knowledge that so far no delayed action bombs have been dropped by the Japanese, the cleanup squads immediately begin digging.

Sometimes they find high flung fragments of rocks caused the holes, but more often the workers discover bombs. The largest bomb excavated to date fell at the downtown crossroads last year and penetrated 30 feet of soft earth before it came to rest. When finally hoisted out, the bomb proved to weigh 1,800 pounds.

Ordinance officers withdraw the charges from the bombs, which are sold either to chemical firms or re-used by Chinese munitions firms. The cases are used for scrap iron.

Joke About Bombs

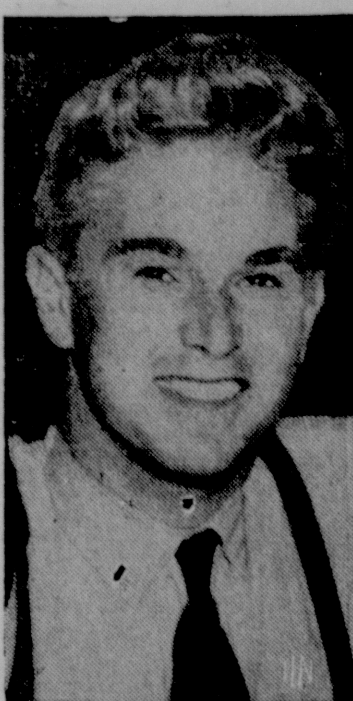

Thrifty Chungking residents joke about the delivery of badly needed chemicals by Japanese air express. Since none of the duds ever has exploded during the excavation operations, the areas are not roped off and anyone can watch the process.

During a recent raid, a bomb fell squarely in the center of the main road between the city and a suburb, but traffic continued around the edge of the hole as the cleanup squad worked throughout the night.

The use of gasoline or oil incendiaries first was noticed during one of the recent Chungking raids, when a bomb penetrated the roof and two floors of the National Library and buried itself in loose, damp earth below, after leaving a blotch which appeared and swelled like gasoline.

Before 1799 the United States Marine Corps had no regular paymaster; the commandant or some other officer usually filled the job.

Government Plans 1942 Farm Program

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—With old surpluses melting away under increasing domestic and British demands, the agriculture department will announce within a few days details of a 1942 farm program which is designed to provide the nation with the largest supply of food ever produced in a single year. Sharp increases in the production of many commodities, particularly dairy products, poultry products, vegetable crops suitable for processing and canning, meat animals, some fruits, and livestock feed, will be sought.

Only in the case of cotton, tobacco and wheat will rigid restrictions on production and marketing be retained. Warehouses and elevators are crowded with huge surpluses of these crops as a result of the loss of export markets.

Approved by defense authorities, the program is being based upon the assumption that there will be an unprecedented demand for American food supplies during 1942 and 1943, and also upon the desire of the government to accumulate large reserves for use in any emergency.

Officials expect food demands of consumers in this country to be the largest in history because of re-employment under the defense program and because of limitations being placed on the production and sales of automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines and other durable consumer goods.

Likewise, British food authorities have indicated they will need much larger quantities of many farm products than are being made available to them this year under terms of the lend-lease program.

CLEVER NEW HATS INTRIGUE THE COLLEGE GIRLS

Hats are on again in the school and college set, in spite of the recent craze for going bare-headed. The smart girl studies her type, and enhances her looks by means of her hat. This season there are many easy-to-wear hats in the market, and three of them are shown above. At left is a Scotch cap in blue felt with red felt crocheted edging. It has a stretchable top in between the crease, which makes it mold to the shape of the head. Top right is a town and country hat good for all daytime occasions. It is of brown felt with green facing for underbrim, and a feather quill to give it dash. Below is a platform beret of black bengaline with that important V for Victory motif in red and gold braid. It is for dress-up occasions.

CONQUESTS ON SEA LISTED BY BRITISH

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A large Italian liner of a type known to be serving for troop transport—believed to be the 23,635-ton Duilio—has been torpedoed "and almost certainly sunk" in a series of British successes in the Mediterranean, the admiralty announced today.

The big ship was attacked while sailing with two other large passenger ships off the coast of Italy, the admiralty said in a communique announcing two other Mediterranean attacks on Axis shipping.

In yet another engagement the admiralty reported that a 10,000-ton cruiser was hit by torpedoes and seriously damaged by a British submarine in an attack on "an enemy naval force" presumably Italian between Sicily and Italy proper.

A loaded tanker was torpedoed and sunk from an Axis convoy off

Sicily, and in the same group of vessels the 4,971-ton Italian supply ship Aquitania was severely damaged by torpedoes.

In the central Mediterranean an Axis supply ship of "about 3,000 tons" was torpedoed and sunk by a British submarine, the admiralty said.

First Blimp Ready

AKRON, Sept. 5.—The first of five 400,000 cubic foot patrol blimps for the navy will be ready for trial flights next week, the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced. HOLD SUSPECT IN OKLAHOMA SLAYING

SANDUSKY, Sept. 5.—A 31-year-old man was held in county jail today as a suspect in the slaying of Miss Billie Grayson, 18, whose nude body was found in a cemetery at Chandler, Okla.

William Souter, sheriff of Erie county, made the arrest last night at nearby Rye beach, at the request of Marvin Roberts, sheriff at Chandler, and booked the prisoner as Courtney Douglass Orrell. Roberts was reported enroute to Sandusky today to take charge of the suspect.

Miss Grayson was last seen alive Aug. 17 by Helen Grandstaff, 12, who told officers in Chandler that she and Miss Grayson were picked up by a man in an automobile. When he stopped the car, later, both girls attempted to get out. The driver grabbed Miss Grayson by the neck and drove away with her. The next morning her body was found propped against a tombstone in the cemetery.

Lipstick Useful

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Mayme Ploger smears lipstick on the nickels when she plays the music box in her cafe.

That's so the music man will know the jitneys were on the house. Mayme calls them business stimulators.

And that's why officers arrested two fellows for spending pink nickels. The cafe was robbed recently of $40.

Bee In Her Blouse

INDIANOLA, Miss. — The curbstone sitters club adjourned in extreme haste when members saw an automobile headed for them, the driver pawing frantically at her bosom. The car caromed off the corner building, and pretty soon returned.

"Sorry, boys," the pretty driver said unabashed. "A bee got into my blouse, and stung me."

One out of every 30 draftees was rejected for any service whatsoever because of subnormal eyesight.

YOUTH TRIES TO MAKE ESCAPE, SHOT
Industrial School Parolee Wounded; Questioned On Auto Thefts

Nerr Gaunt spotted Rohan up town. Chief Stoffer continued to watch the youth's movements when Gaunt had to answer a bank call. When Rohan came out of the bus terminal, the chief showed the youth his badge and told him "you're wanted over at the station." Rohan immediately ran and failed to heed the officer's command to stop.
The victim, although just 16 years old, could be taken for a youth 19 years of age. He is about five feet, nine inches in height and weighs 176 pounds.
Admits Some Thefts
Rohan denied, when questioned at the hospital, that he had looted cars in the vicinity of the Bliss company, but admitted stealing flashlights, a woman's watch and some money from automobiles parked in the business district. He also admitted, police said, that he took $3.85 from the trouser pocket of a relative.
Police went to a home where Rohan had been staying and recovered the watch and one of the flashlights. Further investigations are planned in an attempt to clear up the numerous car and auto parts thefts in the city.
The latest automobile theft involved a car owned by Harry Dunlap of R. D. 4, Salem, stolen from the Bliss lot early yesterday morning. The machine abandoned, was found in Portage county shortly before 8 last night.
O. E. Smith of the Metzger hotel told police yesterday that a window on his car, parked at a rear of the hotel, had been forced open and a camera stolen. Rohan denied taking it.
Still missing is a car owned by Robert Balsley of 362 N. Roosevelt ave., which was taken from a parking place near the Bliss plant Wednesday morning.
A radio was removed from an automobile owned by Charles Kille of 409 E. Second st., while the owner was at work at the factory Wednesday night. Auxiliary headlights were removed from a car, owned by Keith Dole, parked in front of his home on E. Third st.

NAVY TO DESTROY SUB IF IT'S FOUND

per," a reporter inquired, "is it possible for a submarine to make a mistake in broad daylight at torpedo distance?"

Not If Periscope Is Up

Mr. Roosevelt said he would put the explanation this way: "If a submarine had a periscope above the surface there was no excuse for a wrong identification. Most torpedoes, he said, are fired by means of a visual sight."

However, almost all naval vessels, including German and Italian, he added, have listening devices and it is possible to fire at a sound. This method is not nearly as accurate.
Mr. Roosevelt dismissed as hypothetical a question on how he would classify the Greer incident as regards "a shooting war."

To an inquiry whether it was possible for a ship to be on the American side of the Atlantic and at the same time in a belligerent zone proclaimed by Germany, the chief executive said this country never had been notified of the establishment of such a zone. A blockade is never recognized, he added, if it is ineffective.

To a further question, whether the Greer had behaved in accord with instructions and policy in dropping depth charges immediately, the President suggested there was no information to the contrary. He asked his questioner what he would do if attacked.

Prompt Discussion

The President himself brought up the attack on the Greer to open his press conference, telling reporters that he knew they would all be asking about it. He had whispered for a moment first with his naval aide, Captain John R. Beardsall.
The President said he had a couple of thoughts on the attack as a result of listening to one or two broadcasts and reading one or two things said by people in Washington. These people reminded him of the father in what he said was an allegorical story.

Once upon a time, at a place where he was living, Mr. Roosevelt related, some country children were on the way to school and some undisclosed person fired at them from the bushes. The father took the position there was nothing to do about it, no reason to search the bushes or take any other steps.

because the children had not been hit.

"Is any search of the bushes being made?" the chief executive was asked.

Yes, he responded. In other words, we don't go along with the father of the children. It might even be said that the school teacher (meaning the President) was looking into the matter.

After answering in the negative a question whether the attack on the Greer had resulted in any change in orders to American naval vessels, the President was presented with a reminder that it once had been the practice, in case of attack, to "go and tell papa."

Mr. Roosevelt agreed that was not done any more.

(Some time ago Mr. Roosevelt was asked at a press conference what was the procedure when an American ship on patrol sighted a submarine. His offhand reply was that the ship should radio the submarine's position and pass along the word to papa—meaning himself.)

Declaring he had nothing further to say today on the subject, the President dismissed a question whether any grounds for diplomatic action were presented by the shots at the Greer.

Told that one report was that the attack occurred approximately 150 miles west of Iceland, Mr. Roosevelt said he could not discuss approximate locations.

NAZI ARTILLERY HITS LENINGRAD

Germans Again Threaten Destruction Like That At Warsaw

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—Heavy German artillery is shelling Leningrad, the German high command announced today.

This Russia's second largest city apparently faces these alternatives—surrender or the Warsaw-like destruction which Germans have warned it will suffer if it resists.

The fuchrer's command war bulletin, indicating that the ring of steel which German and Finnish forces are tightening around Leningrad's approaches has been almost closed, described the situation in these four terse sentences:

"Successful operations on the east front.

"The encirclement of Leningrad is progressing.

"The city itself already is under fire of heavy German artillery.

"Estonia has been freed of the enemy."

MOSCOW, Sept. 5.—Red army units counter-attacking amid artillery fire on the approaches to Leningrad were reported today to have advanced almost a mile at one point in the battle for Russia's second largest city, taking four villages.

The defenses of Leningrad were said to have been bolstered by the arrival of troops from Tallinn, evacuated successfully before the Germans took the Estonian capital. These forces were reported already back in battle against the Nazis.

Pravda, the Communist party organ, reported these developments. Other dispatches said both sides were bringing up their big guns for the battle of Leningrad and the Russian communique announced night-long fighting on the whole front.

NEW AGENCY WILL AID SMALL PLANTS

Hopes to Enlist Little Industries in National Defense Drive

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A new federal agency set out today to enlist even the smallest industrial plants in the national armament manufacturing drive, but one of President Roosevelt's principal advisers repeated his conviction that a single administrator is urgently needed for the whole defense production program.

Bernard M. Baruch, who conquered a similar military production problem 24 years ago, called not only for a single defense chief but for a blanket ceiling on prices.

Headed By New Yorker
Last night, a few hours after Baruch's criticism, the President announced creation of a division of contract distribution in the office of Production Management, to be headed by Floyd B. Odum, New York financier.

A White House statement said the new agency was formed to further "a determined move on the part of the administration to help the smaller business units of the country obtain a fair share of the defense orders, and to prevent, so far as possible, dislocation of industry and unemployment of workers in plants where production has been curtailed by priorities and material shortages."

Baruch had no immediate comment on this development. But he was no more than out of the White House door after lunching with the President yesterday when he told reporters what he thought should be done to speed vital production. Baruch saw the new seven-member supply priorities and allocations board, headed by Vice President Wallace, as only a "faltering step forward."

Praise From Hindenburg
Back in World war days, when he headed the war industries board, Baruch had—and used—the fullest power in throwing the nation's entire productive capacity behind the military effort. So successful was he in marshalling industry that Germany's beaten Marshal von Hindenburg admitted "the war was won in the American industrial centers."

The new contract distribution office will have branches in various states and become one of the most important divisions of OPM, the White House stated.

PATROL WILL BOOST SUB-STATION TOTAL

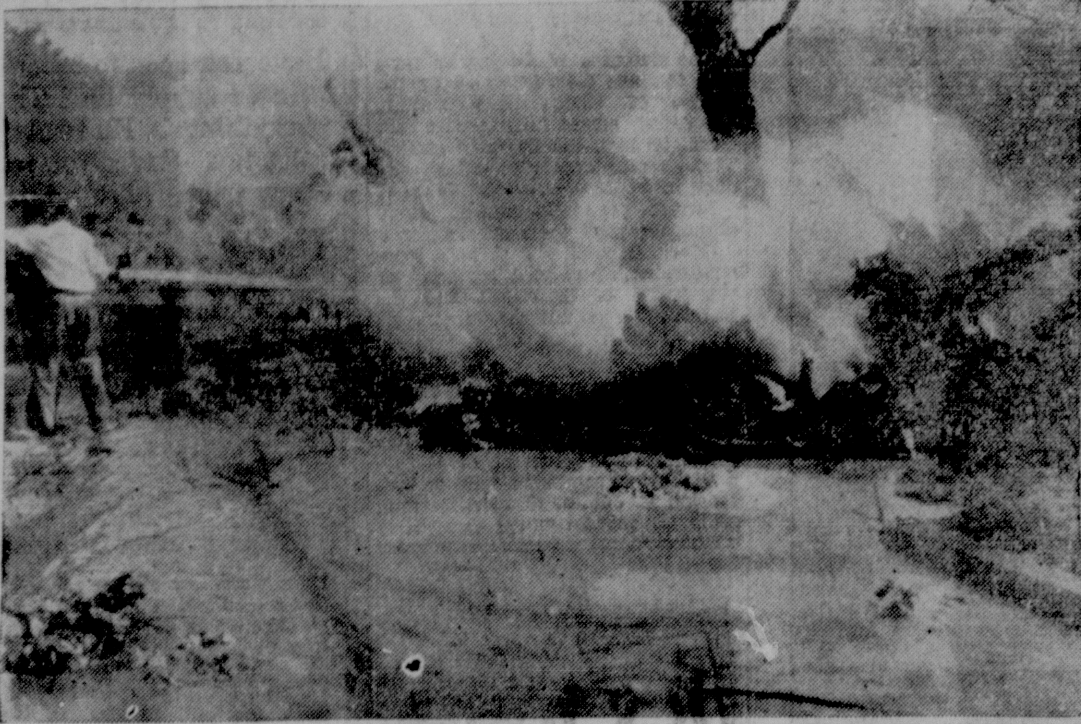

COLUMBUS, Sept. 5.—Faced with increasing traffic problems and armed with authority to add 78 more men, the state highway patrol today embarked upon an expansion program which Supt. Lynn Black said would add seven more sub-stations by early next year.

Installation of a new eight-man unit at Dayton is scheduled for Friday, and Col. Black said that a five-man sub-station would be re-established at Lancaster within a week.

These are the most essential at the moment," Black asserted. "However as soon as we can get the men trained we expect to open a six-man station at Fremont and five-man units at Chagrin Falls, Gallipolis, Wooster and Van Wert."

COUNTIES NOW MAY BAN SHANTY-TOWNS

Commissioners Empowered To Establish Zoning Restrictions

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Sept. 5.—Shanty-towns and jungle villages may be eradicated or made more pleasant places in which to live when county commissioners go into action under a new law effective today.

County commissioners hereafter are empowered to establish zoning restrictions in unincorporated territory designed to insure greater safety, health and sanitary conditions in such mushroom villages.

County commissioners were given such authority after "shanty-towns" were erected near defense plants and just outside large living quarters. Health and sanitary conditions often were found inadequate.

Other Laws Listed

Other laws effective today include those creating a natural resources board and establishing a commission to make recommendations on disposal of present sites of the deaf and blind schools in Columbus, setting new sites and also making recommendations relative to other state institutions.

The salary of the Lorain municipal court judge is increased $1,000 to a maximum of $5,000, the county's share being increased from $1,200 to $1,700 and the city's share from $2,500 to $3,000. The township's share remains at $360.

Appeals to the common pleas court of Lorain county also are provided. If the judge is absent more than 60 days, the time missed is to be compensated at half salary, and if he is absent from the bench for a year the office becomes vacant.

Another bill effective today requires that all containers for apples offered for sale bear the name and address of the grower or packer, the variety, minimum size, weight or numerical count if not offered in a standard container.

Change Driver Laws

Far-reaching changes in the drivers' license statute are provided in another act. These include:

Motorists must have their present driving permit or a legal duplicate when they apply for 1942 licenses, which go on sale Monday.

Licenses must be obtained by Oct. 1.

Drivers between 18 and 21 years of age no longer need consent of parents to obtain a permit.

Those between 16 and 18 may get regular operators' permits, provided they have the consent of their parents, and Restricted licenses may be granted persons between 14 and 16 on direct application to the registrar of motor vehicles.

Other new laws:

Require city firemen to take written examinations for promotion; abolish the office of village marshal as an elective post and require appointment by mayors subject to ratification by council; and confer state-wide jurisdiction on attorney notaries public, whose authority has been only county-wide.

In normal times Britain imports over 50 per cent of her food supplies.

VICTORY CLAIMED BY FINNISH TROOPS

WITH FINNISH FORCES ON THE KARELIAN Isthmus, Sept. 5.—For more than five miles along the road south from Viipuri toward Leningrad lie the dead and debris of what Finnish officers say were three Soviet divisions and auxiliary detachments.

Thousands of Russian corpses, piles of battle-made debris and shell-erupted earth mark the death traps Finnish forces threw about Soviet fighting men retreating from Viipuri.

Possibly 45,000 Russians were caught in successive Finnish encirclements and only 10,000 still are alive, Finnish officers said.

Many of the 10,000 are wounded. The others have been put to work burying their fallen comrades or filling shell holes.

The prize on the prisoners' list is given as Major General Kirpitsnikov, commander of the Red army 43rd division which won the coveted award of the REd banner for its work in the 1939-40 war with the Finns. The 43rd and the 115th Soviet divisions were smashed in two days of fighting, the Finns said.

Only a few scattered Russian units, led by commissars and officers, continued to offer resistance in woods on either side of the road. Once in a while firing could be heard in the distance.

According to the Bureau of the Census, Yoakum County, Texas, made the fastest growth of any county between 1930 and 1940 with a 323.9 per cent increase. Petroleum County, Montana, made the most rapid decline, 47 per cent.

MARKETS ARE GOOD FOR OHIO PEACHES

Fruit Generally Is of Exceptional Quality and Flavor

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Sept. 5.—Ohio is finding a ready market for its large peach crop this season because the fruit generally is of exceptional quality and flavor, Frank H. Beach of Ohio State university said today.

The horticulturist added that the harvest of a government-estimated crop approximating 1,394,000 bushels was in full swing this week — previously designated by Gov. John W. Bricker as "Ohio peach week."

"A dry spring and favorable growing temperatures have combined to produce fruit of splendid quality, flavor and texture," Beach asserted. "Some sections of the state haven't produced such good fruit, but they are the exceptions."

Beach estimated that the harvest in the Port Clinton area, which accounts for nearly half the state's yield, would be virtually completed by the end of the week. Elberta peaches comprise about 75 per cent of the region's crop and are highly regarded for canning because of their firm texture, he said. Other favored varieties are the J. H. Hale and Shippers Big Red.

By mid-September the harvest in the rest of the Lake Erie peach-growing belt will be practically wound up, he predicted. Picking has been in progress throughout other parts of the state since early August and early varieties such as the Belle of Georgia and the old-fashioned Champion are about gone.

Prices averaging about $1.50 a bushel for U. S. No. 1 grade are expected to drop slightly in the next few days as imports from Michigan increase, Beach said.

Ohio's 1941 peach crop was estimated at 1,394,000 bushels in a federal forecast, compared with 443,000 last year and a 10-year average of 861,000. Prices last year averaged about $2 a bushel.

Although labor has been scarce, growers generally have been able to get their crops harvested. Beach predicted there would be sufficient hands for apple growers when their picking season gets under way generally this month.

The federally-estimated apple yield for Ohio was 7,264,000 bushels compared with 5,074,000 last year and an average of 5,374,000 since 1935. The last week in September has been designated as "Ohio apple week."

OHIO'S 37TH WINS WAR GAMES PRAISE

GRANTZ, La., Sept. 5.—Ohio's 37th division and its commanding officer, Maj.-Gen. Robert S. Beightler, drew high praise today for "hard hitting tactics" employed during the Louisiana war games.

In a special commendation, Maj.-Gen. Edmund L. Daley asserted that activity of the Buckeye soldiers displayed "the high state of morale and excellent progress made in training."

"The completeness of the protection of the Calcasieu and the Sabine rivers against tank crossings in the first phase of the exercises and the remarkable advance over almost impassable roads in the second phase of operations evidenced the high state of morale and the excellent progress made in training."

The engineer regiment was lauded separately by Daley for its achievements in facilitating the advance of infantry and artillery over hazardous terrain.

The 37th presently is engaged in a series of field exercises in which they perform as a unit of the entire Third army against an outlined foe. These maneuvers are preparatory excursions to the larger war games scheduled to begin around Sept. 15.

EX-COMMUNIST IS REPORTED WOUNDED

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 5.—Marcel Gittion, described here as a prominent communist journalist who had renounced his party, was reported today to have been seriously wounded last night in German-occupied Paris by a right-wing terrorist.

Gittion was taken to a hospital where doctors extracted a bullet from his left lung but delayed an operation to remove another slug from his abdomen because of his critical condition.

His assailant was said to have escaped on a bicycle.

The attempted assassination followed swiftly the wounding of a German army sergeant in Paris. German police still are seeking his assailant.

Paris, police, meanwhile, arrested two men described as militant Communists and seized a large quantity of Communist literature in a raid in the Plaisance quarter.

"TAKE IT EASY" IS WRITER'S ADVICE

say the Reds apparently are carrying out extensive attacks on the central front, but belittles their effectiveness.

Dienst misses the point. The significant fact is that the Bolsheviks are able to inaugurate big-scale attacks at all, after standing off such a violent assault. It is indicative of reserve power and good morale.

"Psychological Attack"

It is interesting to see the Germans again resorting to what the Muscovites describe as the "psychological attack"—a sort of stage-play which is calculated to confound the enemy. In the case in hand the Reds report that two companies of picked Nazi troops advanced in close formation, "preceded by a band as on parade." Moscow says the attackers were annihilated.

The "psychological attack" cropped up more than once in the World war and I was on the grounds on one occasion when it met with notable success. During the second offensive in the spring of 1918 France, the Germans launched a surprise attack against the British front just north of Arras. The sector selected was held by a division of Portuguese.

The Germans advanced in close formation over the crest of a hill. They were goose-stepping and, mirabile dictu, actually were preceded by the famous one-armed commander, General Karl Hofer. The old boy, who was known as a great sportsman, wore a full dress uniform and carried a yellow can which he waved as he led his troops while his empty sleeve flapped madly in the breeze.

It's perhaps small wonder that the Portuguese line gave way in the face of such a fantastic demonstration, especially since the show was backed by a great force of fighting men. The Germans broke through, and the British averted disaster by the skin of their teeth.

TROOPS WILL BE "GUINEA PIGS" IN MALARIA TESTS

Soldiers In Southern Maneuvers Will Try New Treatment

BY JAMES R. MASSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Army medical officers are planning to use the half million soldiers who will participate in the army maneuvers in Arkansas and Louisiana as "guinea pigs" in a huge mass experiment by which they hope to determine which of two drugs is the best means of combating malaria.

Part of the area the 2d and 3d Armies will use for their "war games" is typical malaria country. It is a low, marshy section, threaded by listless bayous and clouded by great swarms of mosquitoes.

Medical officers of the 2d Army believe the section will be ideal for their experiment, in which they plan to prove whether the old army dependable, quinine, or a new drug, altabrine, is most effective in resisting the malady.

3d Army to Use Quinine
The 2d Army Medical Corps will use altabrine during the maneuvers. All of the soldiers of the 2d Army will be given doses of the drug to build up resistance to malaria. The 3d Army will depend upon its old standby, quinine.

The army doctors say both armies will be equally exposed to the sickness, since both have about the same amount of mosquito netting. The medical officers also agree the experiment will be a satisfactory method of determining which of the two treatments is more effective.

According to officers of the 2d Army, the entire army hopes altabrine will win the test because it is cheaper and easier to obtain.

Altabrine Less Costly
Altabrine can be produced in the United States in large quantities, and can be manufactured more economically than quinine, officers declare. The production of quinine is monopolized by the Netherlands East Indies.

The quinine used in the test will cost the army about $150,000, army doctors estimate. This amount is nearly twice the $80,000 that is expected to be spent on the altabrine that will be used.

Altabrine also affords a simpler transportation problem than quinine, since smaller quantities are needed to build up malaria resistance. Troops of the 3d Army will be given quinine every day during the maneuvers. Soldiers of the 2d Army are expected to build up the same amount of resistance by taking two weekly doses of altabrine, army doctors say.

BOSTON—Four Boston & Maine railroad locomotives were used to move the heaviest load in the railroad's 100-year history. Hitched to a 91-car freight train, the locomotives easily hauled 4,505 net tons of freight up the west slope of Washington mountain in the Berkshires.

COVENTRY, Eng.—Main shopping thoroughfares of Coventry, first blitzed provincial city of Britain, were wiped out by the air raids of November and April. But the people are still shopping. Mushroom shops were sent to Coventry—light, easily made shops that can be run up in a day or so.

Unusual Picture? Yes, but There's a Reason

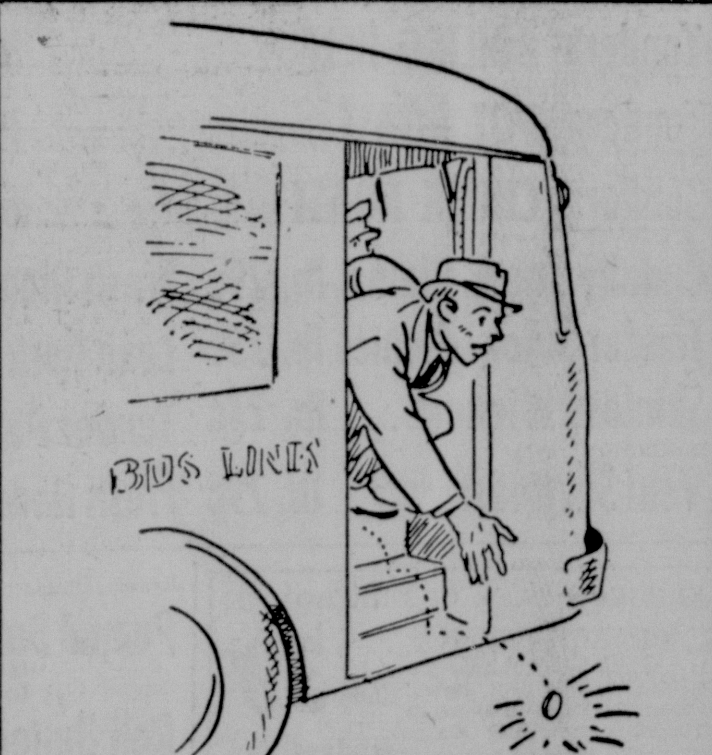

If you're wondering about the unusual slant to this picture of five contenders for the "Miss America" beauty title at Atlantic City, N. J., we'll help you a bit by explaining that the photographer took the picture the other way around and we switched it for you. We knew you'd want to see what the girls looked like. To do this, you had to turn your newspaper upside down. We just did it for you. Left to right, the beauties are Catherine Jane Albert, "Miss Eastern Pennsylvania"; Rosemary La Planche, "Miss California"; Gloria Missel, "Miss South Carolina"; Mary Malone, "Miss Maryland," and Carrie De Ludo, "Miss Philadelphia."

Sub-Machine Gun Gals

Mrs. Otis Lewis (left) and daughter, Janet, draw a bead on the cameraman as they show their advanced knowledge in the use of the sub-machine gun. They are members of the women's organization in Easton, Conn., learning under police instruction how to handle modern firearms. The women had already proved themselves sharpshooters with other weapons.

Family Waits For Ghost To Depart Before Returning

SHENANDOAH, Ia.—The Adolph Johnson family will move back into the home when everyone is convinced that the ghost—or whatever or whoever it was—has departed.

The Johnsons and their two children moved out of their pleasant, seven-room house after a series of mysterious disturbances that finally became too much to endure.

Johnson, a postal clerk, and his wife lived in the house for 20 years without any hint of the happenings that began on July 4, 1941.

On that day the Johnsons hung out an American flag. When they took it down at sundown, holes were ripped in it.

In subsequent days, more strange occurrences followed. Johnson's trousers, hanging in a closet, were ripped. A pillowcase was ripped open and the stuffing was scattered. A bedsheet was torn and curtains were cut.

Suspect Cat

Four inches of water were found in a chandelier.

The Johnsons thought the intruder might have been a rodent, and put out various poisons, even poisoning potatoes as bait. The potatoes were gnawed, but the strange happenings continued.

Finally, a lock of hair was clipped from the head of the Johnsons' daughter Barbara, 10, as she was asleep. It lay beside her on the pillow when she awoke, frightened.

There were no tracks and no odd noises. The Johnsons finally fumigated the house with cyanide gas. After it had cleared out, the house was searched. They found some dead flies and crickets and nothing more.

The "ghost" has not returned, but Johnson is reluctant to move back. The family—there is also a son, Dolph, 17—have been living with his mother here, Mrs. Claus Johnson, who believes it may have been a rat or a "strange river beast."

MARION, Ill.—This city had a strike unlike any ever staged in the country before. The National Youth Administration felt slighted when monthly paychecks were late and workers at NYA industrial headquarters agreed not to work. Some remained off duty for a full day.

A recent survey of school children in New York City disclosed that one out of every seven pupils had eyesight faults which needed correction.

PUPPET LOVE by Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

The morning was glorious, intoxicating, heady. It was a gorgeous world—made to order—and then as a finishing touch there in the luncheon he saw Nicky.

Her dark curly head was bent attentively over a mug of coffee. But the curls were in order, securely tied by a red ribbon. She was in fresh white slacks and the sailor type of blouse she wore so becomingly. She looked fresh as the morning and even more delightful.

At that moment she turned her head in a gravely serious gesture for no more serious business than to reach for a piece of toast. The move gave him a good view of her semi-profile, and particularly of her full, soft mouth. He suddenly wanted to kiss her again—quite often.

This wouldn't do at all! He got a firm grip on himself as he flung open the screen door. His voice, striving for light casualness, was almost too cheerful.

"Didn't I say I was lucky?" he asked, sliding onto the stool beside her. "Look at the morning!"

"Oh, hello," Nicky swung around brightly, but the smile faded as she surveyed him from curly head to corded toe. "Lucky's no word for it. Did you win those, too?"

Chris flushed, until his throat and face matched the thin stripe on his shirt. "Oh, the—the clothes!" he stammered. "What's wrong?"

"Not a thing—for the Riviera—but aren't you a bit dressy for Maryland, at least the highway?"

"But they're—excuseable," he mumbled, remembering that Nicky's training at the Baddington Grange undoubtedly included the appraisal of good tailoring. "I did . . . sort of win them, you see. From a chap who'd been to Europe last winter. Same size . . . wanted to get rid of them cheap."

"Mmmmm," said Nicky expressively, returning to the toast and coffee. That "Mmmmm" lingered with Chris through the day. Nicky quite plainly did not believe the winning story. The clothes had that belonging look about them. He tried to think of some way of improving the story but finally decided to let sleeping lies lie and hope for the best.

They traveled with her trailer. Nicky's hitched to his car, which vastly improved transportation. They rehearsed with the melodion hitched to his motor which eliminated the hiccupings from "Blue Danube" and "Over the Waves."

Chris hit upon an idea for an iron triangle to serve as landing gear for Nemesis during the coupling process. A visit to a blacksmith shop proved it very practicable.

Chris was in a warm glow of personal achievement when, at one o'clock that afternoon, they arrived at the home of Miss Angela Chipperton, a really lovely Maryland estate presided over by a flutery plump lady of too many years to wear peach colored chiffon. For the afternoon, the beautiful lawn was turned over to the Little Mothers' Friendly society.

The marionette touch was Miss Chipperton's additional donation to the cause and her particular joy. Chris couldn't step backward that afternoon without stepping on her. And he stepped around a great deal.

Nicky's show went smoothly from the start. The trailer uncoupled easily with the new stabilizer. The music ran without interruption. Nicky, spared the physical strain of setting up the theater, gave an excellent performance and emerged, finally looking pretty and pleased to receive an enthusiastic applause. Chris B. shop had never found such exhilaration in champagne.

"I think you and your wife are so gypsy-ish."

The performance over, the little mothers and their smaller charges heading off across the lawn, Chris stood beside the door of Nemesis and drew a deep, grateful breath. Just the other side of the door, Nicky was packing the dolls. Behind him was a good day's work. Before him lay the promise of freedom and adventure. He hadn't been so happy since . . . since he was a small boy, when up in the Berkshires, his governess had been taken ill and he'd spent a whole week with his parents—alone! It was good to be close to your own, to feel that you were needed by someone.

"Should I pay you . . . or your wife?"

Chris leaped at the tinkle of Miss Chipperton's small voice. Within the trailer he heard Nicky's soft movements as she folded costumes. He raised his voice deliberately.

"She is the artist," he said firmly. "And I am the business manager."

"How thrilling!" Miss Chipperton gasped, handing him a crisp ten-dollar bill. "I can't tell you how I've loved having you. I think you and your wife are divine. So gypsy-ish. You know, confidently, 'I've always wanted a puppet show.'"

At that moment, Nicky's head appeared at the small window, immediately above Miss C's straw-colored halo. Angry speech was in her eyes but Chris' lips signaled silence.

"Tell me," Miss Chipperton was asking, "how did you and your wife get this show?"

"We were born to it," he said solemnly, resting an elbow on the window ledge to prod Nicky out of sight. "We came from an old, you-might-say famous, family of—

"How exciting! And your children?"

"I hope they're acrobats!" snapped Nicky's voice from the trailer.

"Our children," Chris' voice rose to stentorian tones. "Travel in a separate trailer. A boy and a girl—Marmaduke and Millicent. They only catch up with us on weekends."

"Then they'll be with you tomorrow?" sighed Miss Chipperton. "I'll be thinking of you. Pleasant dreams, Mr. Nicky!"

"Nightmares to you!" muttered Nicky as Miss Chipperton fluttered off, "and as for you, Mr. Allen, any more nonsense like that and our partnership ends."

"And leave Marmaduke and Millicent with no place to spend the weekend? How could you, madame?"

"You'll see, Mr. Nicky, and you had that coming to you."

An hour later they were on the road again. Chris leading the way with the old car, Nicky following with Chris' car and trailer Nemesis. The intervening hour had been devoted to argument. Nicky wanted to go to Baltimore for mail; Chris wanted to find Kamp Kossy Komfort, and settle down for a weekend of repairs.

"But there might be a letter," Nicky insisted. "Baltimore's my next general delivery address. Remember I've only one engagement ahead—and that's not until a week from Monday."

"And almost in Roanoke. Why not take the time to fix Nemesis? It's really an investment, you know. Besides, I have a hunch Baltimore is not a lucky town for us."

"I don't trust hunches," Nicky objected. "As for luck, I think it's pretty nearly what you make it."

"Can you deny I haven't brought you some luck?"

"I suppose you have," she admitted ruefully, "or it's the manpower to get me out of ditches that makes life simpler."

Finally Chris won, and at sunset they reached Kamp Kossy Komfort. Chris pulled into the entrance to be greeted by Joe.

"Well, look who's here. The Duke, himself!" With a broad, hearty grin, Joe thrust out his hand. "Where did you get the crate? I said somebody'd take you over. What happened to your car?"

"It's coming, Joe," Chris explained cheerfully. "I'm business manager now of a puppet . . . that is, a marionette show."

"Of a what?" Joe echoed, his smile receding before a wave of bewilderment, as Nicky pulled in, with Nemesis. Introductions merely enveloped Nicky in the surprise.

"But what did you say you had?" Joe persisted. "Marryin' what?"

"Marionettes," Nicky repeated sharply. "Puppets! Dolls!"

"Oh, them!" Joe brightened. "The kind you knock down! Have you got a tie-up with a carnival?"

"Well, show you later," Chris promised, as Joe led the way to a parking place. "Tell you all about it."

"Did you expect a reception committee here?" Nicky asked, as Chris jacked up the trailer.

"I rather thought so. You'll like Joe. He's so natural."

"Natural? Practically arboreal! An old classmate, I suppose?"

"No," Chris explained truthfully. "I gave him a lift outside Harrisburg yesterday, just a few hours before I met you."

"Oh, I see. Life began—at noon—yesterday."

"I think you doubt me," Chris said solemnly, coming to his feet and absent-mindedly wiping his hands on his white trousers. "I? Doubt? I believe every word every man tells me!" Nicky assured him, climbing into Nemesis and fastening the screen door—"especially when their luck guides them to old-old friends—automobiles and trousers. This last is just a bit thick. Now, if you'll pardon me, I'll get some supper."

Desperately Chris tried to explain but was forced to abandon the attempt. It lent no conviction to argument to stand outside a trailer and shout so that all one's neighbors could—and did—listen.

"WORRIES OF A LOCKED STOMACH ARE OVER"

"Feels It Her Duty To Pass the Good News of TON JON On To Other Sufferers. After Receiving Marvelous Relief From Bad Headaches, Liver Trouble, Gas, Indigestion, Nausea, Swollen Feet and Sharp Pains."

MRS. MARIE SMITH

"My stomach felt as if it was locked or tight," states Mrs. Marie Smith of 620 Main street, Martins Ferry, Ohio, a member of the Baptist Church, I. W. O. Lodge and employed at the Wheeling Steel Corp.

"I had a poor appetite and suffered from stomach ailments such as indigestion, heart fluttering, heartburn and sourness."

"I was burdened with dizzy spells, biliousness, bad taste in mouth and gall bladder trouble. Pains in my back, arms, legs and in back of my neck seemed to make sorrowful hours for me. Severe headaches, serious liver trouble and a very nervous state of mind were just about too much for me. My feet would swell badly, and I was in a general worn-out, rundown condition with an ever-present sluggish feeling."

"After seeing so many advertisements about TON JON I thought that I would try it. I am mighty glad I did because after taking this fine medicine a short time I feel lots better. I know that it will not take very much longer until I am completely well, judging from the results that I have already received from the great health restorer—TON JON. I sincerely believe that TON JON is a very good medicine and feel that I should pass the news on to my friends and any other sufferers of this kind."

TON JON is the medicine that has helped so many here in Salem and vicinity. Come to the Eadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio, and let the TON JON Representative explain more about it.—Adv

Large Crowd Expected For Third Annual Polo Club Horse Show

Quaker Gridders Shaping Up As Fast, Light Team; Identity Of First Foe Is Still Doubtful

After several weeks of practice, the 1941 edition of the Salem High school football squad is being rounded into shape by Coach Ray Overturf. This year's Quakers loom as a fast, light team, and will rely on deception to take advantage of their speed and counter-act their lack of weight.

Overturf is using a double wing back formation in scrimmage. In early season talks he told the squad he would use the double wing back if material were available, and indications of its success are promising. Much of the potential weight of the new squad left in one lump when Felix Di Antonio, 200-pound varsity tackle, quit the squad when asked to play center. This far Overturf has turned down Di Antonio's pleas for reinstatement, calling attention to several moves of a like nature by the husky gridder last season. His return to the squad this season is doubtful.

The Salem stalwarts, though they have been working on blocking, running plays, and tackling, "have not yet had a real workout this season," according to Overturf. Starting Monday, however, when two varsity men from last year, Bob Scullion and Frank ("Pink") King, return to uniform, the new coach predicts a much heavier drill.

Lettermen In Backfield

The backfield for this year's squad consists, at present, of three lettermen and one reserve player from last year. The lettermen include fleet-footed Carmen ("Too") Nocera, who played varsity halfback last year while only a freshman, and Johnny Volo, for two years a quarterback but now shifted to fullback. One of the most successful changes made by Overturf has been the shifting of Phil Cozad from an end position to a running back. So far this season "Varsity Phil" has proved to be a brilliant open field runner.

Last, but not least, is an unheralded junior. Don't be surprised at the first game if you hear the name of Dick Culbertson at the quarterback slot calling signals for the Red and Black.

SEBRING OPENER HERE CALLED OFF

Because of a mistake made by Sebring officials, the football game between Salem and Sebring, scheduled as the Quakers' opener, has been called off. The Sebring officials have scheduled games with Youngstown Pitch and Salem on the 19th of this month, but due to the fact that Fitch had been scheduled first, Ohio A. U. officials gave them the game. For this reason, Salem will not play Sebring this season.

Instead there will be a "double header" on this date between Salem and possibly Salineville and an unknown team as yet. Salem will play one team the first half, and then the other the second half.

Salem football fans may secure season tickets just as soon as the school officials obtain another team to play in the double header on the 19th. Faculty Manager Fred Cope announced last night.

Two players who will greatly strengthen the front wall are Bob Ruffing and Salvatore ("Tut") Guapone. Ruffing, who transferred to S. H. S. two seasons ago from Pennsylvania and is now a Senior, has been playing a good grand of tackle. He is a letterman. Guapone, also a Senior, can be expected to play bang-up ball any time that he is on the gridiron.

NELSON, GOLFDOM'S WHIRLAWAY, HAPPY AT TOURNEY POST

"Second at the Quarter" In Tam O' Shanter Open, Byron Satisfied

By EARL HILLIGAN. (By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The Whirlaway of professional golf, Slim Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., was perfectly satisfied with his second-at-the-quarter position as the field headed for the halfway pole today in the $11,000 Tam O'Shanter Open championship.

Nelson was not the pacemaker as play began in the second round of this richest tournament of the year. That spot was occupied by Leonard Dodson, 29-year-old professional from Kansas City. But the quiet-spoken Nelson, one of the greatest stretch finishers the pro sport ever has produced, had a 67 round he believed was all the start needed in his quest for the tourney's top prize of $2,000.

Dodson started the second round with a seven under par 65 as the result of a great performance yesterday which set a new competitive record for the Tam O'Shanter layout. His card showed one Bogie, an Eagle and six Birdies.

Nelson was two shots back at 67. Out in 34, he came back in 33, remarking as he left the 18th green "That round was one of the truest I've ever played and if my game holds I'll be in there all the way."

Both he and Dodson, however, were certain to have plenty of competition for the $2,000 and 29 other cash awards. At 68 was Johnny Bulla of Chicago, with no fewer than five players in the 69 bracket, among them Ralph Guidahl, twice former national open champion, and Dick Metz of Chicago.

Vic Ghezzi, the Professional Golfers' association titleholder, was working on a two under par 70, one shot under the first round total turned in by Craig Wood, national open champion.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY SID FEDER (Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(The Special News Service) — Not since Wrong-Down Getchell and Fifth-Down Friesell has there been a blast such as the sports writers are letting loose on the new collegiate grid substitution rule. The pros used it in the all-star contests here and in Chicago, and showed just how foolish the unlimited subs can make a game look. In the one he won the other night, one of the New York Giants was in and out of the game 17 times.

Hot Hash
There'll be some news busting in the next week or two about a certain major league franchise. YANKEES OUT OF REACH; MAY PLAY BROOKS IN SERIES

N. Yorkers Cinch A. L. Flag Race; Cards Practically Hand Doggers Pennant

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer

Today's best advice for baseball fans is to get your nickels ready for a subway series—the New York Yankees have clinched the American league pennant and the Brooklyn Dodgers have been handed the national league lead on a big, brimming platter.

The Yanks bombed their way to their fifth championship in six years yesterday by smashing the Boston Red Sox, 6-3, with a 10-hit assault on two of Boston's best pitchers, Dick Newsome and Mickey Harris, while Atley Donald was holding the Red Soxers in check on five safeties.

The New Yorkers thus achieved their 91st victory against 45 defeats for a 20-game lead over the Chicago White Sox—who regained exclusive possession of second place through the crumbling of the Red Sox.

Out of Reach
The triumph, which put the Yanks out of reach of all rivals, clinched the pennant at the earliest date in American League history.

All this was no surprise to anyone. The noise like distant thunder heard in the Major Leagues yesterday was the St. Louis Cardinals crashing in a doubleheader at Chicago, 3-0 and 4-3.

The Redbirds were presented with the same kind of golden opportunity Brooklyn fumbled on Wednesday. On that day St. Louis was rained out and the Dodgers had a chance to take charge of the senior circuit by paddling the last-place Phillies in a doubleheader. Brooklyn divided the contests and left the Cards atop the league.

Cards Muff Chance
Yesterday it was Brooklyn that was rained into idleness and the Cardinals who played a doubleheader with the same huge reward at stake. But they not only muffed the opportunity, their double defeat dropped them one full game back of Brooklyn.

The Pittsburgh Pirates closed the gap between themselves and the third-place Reds to a half-game by beating Cincinnati again, 4-0, before rain halted play in the last of the fifth. Rip Sewell held the world champions to one hit over this abbreviated distance while the Pirates pelted Bucky Walters for five.

Bob Feller finally got his 22nd triumph, but it took a three-run rally in the tenth inning by his Cleveland Indians to nose out Detroit, 7-6. The Tigers scored twice in their half of the tenth.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Batting—Reiser, Brooklyn, .333. Runs—Reiser, Brooklyn, 100. Runs Batted In—Camilli, Brooklyn, 97. Hits—Hack, Chicago, 164. Doubles—Mize, St. Louis, and Reiser, Brooklyn, 36. Triples—Reiser, Brooklyn, 12. Home Runs—Camilli, Brooklyn, 29. Stolen Bases—Murtaugh, Philadelphia, 16. Pitching—White, St. Louis, 17.4.

REAL ESTATE
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—The World Champion Cincinnati Reds still are trying to get their widely heralded September drive out of reverse gear.

So far they have won one of five games in the first week of the month, and today's twin bill gives them an opportunity either to start winning or slide into fourth place in the National league.

Manager Bill McKechnie is calling on Paul Derringer to win one game and either Jim Turner, Johnny Vander Meer, or Newcomer Ray Starr to take the other. Lloyd Dietz and Max Butcher are the Pirate pitchers.

The Pirates' 4-0 4½-inning victory yesterday, their sixth straight over the Reds, dropped Cincinnati to a spot only a half game out of fourth place. It was Bucky Walters' third straight defeat and his 13th of the year.

Game With Zelienople Is Feature Of Program; Seven Events Listed For Ponies

If given a break by a rather wobbly weatherman, the Salem polo team looks for its biggest crowd of the season Sunday when the third annual Salem polo club horse show gets under way. In addition to exhibition the Salem poloists will take on Zelienople in a Penn-Ohio league polo game.

Three thousand people attended the first horse show sponsored by the club and an even greater number attended last year.

The show Sunday afternoon will be exclusively a pony show, with a horse show listed for the following Sunday when Alliance plays here. Entries are already pouring in to Wade Loop, general manager of the show, and large entry lists are anticipated for both days.

Pony show judges will be George Miller, Lisbon, and Lew Berg, Maximo.

Latest entry in is that of a six-pony team owned by C. L. Ritchie of Warren. Ritchie's ponies have exhibited at several state fairs and various other events. While here they will be seen during the parade before the game and, during the halftime intermission, will demonstrate their prowess in pulling a pig iron sledge.

The pony parade will begin at 2 p. m. and the game at 3. A portion of the seven-event program will be run off before the start of the game and the remainder at the half.

Contests include a ball driving contest, to be run off before the game, and at the intermission: a boy's pony class for youths under 16, a pony class for girls under 16, and a class to be shown in harness with vehicle.

Seven Events for Kiddies
Seven events are also listed for the horse show to be held on the following Sunday before and during the Alliance game. The horse show will include an open class for couples.

Committees for the events are listed below:
General chairman, Wade A. Loop. Gate and tickets: Walter Fennel, Walter Grimes, Robert Clunan, George Brungard. Timer: Franklin Smith, Albert Silver, Les Cobbs. Ticket line for entries: John Doyle, Ed Sheen, Jr. Equipment: Wallace Duncan, Joseph Edgson, William Osborn. Officiating: Jack Hendricks, Lawrence Yates.

BOWLING RESULTS

The bowling season's on again! First scores of the 1941-42 campaign were recorded last night at the Masonic alleys as 10 Electric Furnace league teams went into action.

Night Turn No. 1 took a pair from Night Turn No. 2; Transformers topped three from the Electricians; Draftsmen landed two from the Shipping Room; Machinists came through with a 2-to-1 victory over the Structuralists; and the Purchasing department grabbed three straight from the Office.

High team scores were registered by the Machinists and Structuralists, 2155 to 2138. Organization of the Federal league, at the Masonic alleys, was completed last night. There'll be eight clubs in the circuit, including one new team, Beeler's Scholastics, taking the place of the National Brass & Copper. Sheen's Service is a new name, but the squad will be made up mostly of the old Ohio Edison Dodgers.

Other teams are: Brownie's Service, Meissner's Service, Knights of Columbus, Sanitary Foremen, Sanitary Shoppers, and the Eagles. Emmor Taylor is president; Merv Thomas is secretary; and Bill Juergens, treasurer.

The league will start bowling Friday, Sept. 12. The National circuit was scheduled to organize last night, but failed to complete its work. This will be done next week.

Last night's scores:

LISBON ANNOUNCES 8-GAME SCHEDULE

Twenty-Five Gridders Are Out For County Seat Football Squad

LISBON, Sept. 5.—An eight-game schedule on the gridiron was announced today for the Lisbon High "Blue Devils" by Coach Earl "Red" Vanaman, who early this week issued the first call for men, which brought out 25 candidates.

With but two weeks remaining before the opening game, Coach Vanaman is working hard to build a strong team, using five regulars back from last year as the nucleus of this year's machine. Vanaman must find three new backfield men to team up with Don Loch, blocking half from last year, while four linemen returning will considerably bolster the forward wall. The returning linemen are McDevitt, Eric Silage, and Kauffman.

Opening the season with the invasion of Columbiana, on Saturday, Sept. 20, the Blue Devils on successive weekends will meet the following opponents: Sept. 27—Minerva, there; Oct. 4—Boardman, there; Oct. 11—East aPleistine here; Oct. 18—Sebring, here; Nov. 1—Lentonia, there, and Nov. 15—Salem, here.

Ohio's New Highway Code Goes Into Effect On Saturday: Important Points Are Listed

(This is the first of three stories outlining highlights of Ohio's new traffic code.)

COLUMBUS—Ohio motorists for the first time soon will be able to travel across the state without being confronted with different traffic regulations in every city or village.

On Saturday, Ohio's uniform traffic code, the first ever promulgated in the state, becomes effective. Then motorists will observe the same traffic signs and regulations in Cleveland as in Podunk as soon as the state highway department and local subdivisions can change all traffic signs to a uniform standard.

Being the first attempt at evolving a uniform traffic code, even the most ardent sponsors of the law do not claim perfection for it. They admit that probably several contradictions will arise and that subsequent legislatures will have to make amendments.

Apply Everywhere

Code provisions apply to all highways, either in the country or municipality, and to all streets within a municipality unless the municipality obtains authority from the highway department to make changes.

All vehicular traffic and pedestrians are required to obey all traffic control devices unless a police officer is on duty. Then they must obey the traffic officer, regardless of what the control devices indicate.

Traffic signals may use the words "go," "caution," and "stop" or colors "green," "yellow" and "red."

When green or "go" is flashed all traffic facing the signal may move through an intersection, but must yield the right of way to traffic within the intersection.

When "caution" or yellow is flashed after red or "stop," pedestrians may proceed, but all other traffic must wait until the green or "go" signal is flashed.

When red alone is flashed all traffic must stop.

Must Yield Intersection

When a green arrow alone shows, traffic may enter an intersection to move as indicated by the arrow, but must yield the right of way to other traffic within the intersection.

When "walk" or "wait" are used as special pedestrian controls, all other traffic must give the right of way to the pedestrian when "walk" is flashed, but when "wait" is flashed the pedestrian must not attempt to cross.

Where flasher signals are used, all vehicular traffic must stop on red before entering an intersection and then proceed only with caution.

When yellow is flashed all vehicular traffic must proceed with caution through the intersection, but it need not stop.

NEW SPEED LAW

Motorists who have been in a habit of stepping along to the tune of 60 miles an hour and up in the open country will have to see that the speedometer does not register more than 50 miles an hour after Saturday, when the new uniform traffic code becomes effective.

The motorist must drive up to 50 miles, but above that he is subject to prosecution. Under the old law, 45 miles an hour in the open country was the legal limit but a driver could go 90 miles an hour or as much as the old bus would make—providing there was a clear road—and not be subject to arrest.

The 50-miles-an-hour limit will be in effect on all highways until the state highway director changes it. Should a traffic survey show 50 miles on any stretch of road too great a speed for safety, the director may lower it. If he finds that more than 50 miles an hour is permissible, he may raise the limit. He may change the maximum speed limits any place on state routes, even within municipalities, if traffic surveys indicate they should be changed. But in all cases where changes are made by the highway director, they are not effective until signs indicating the new speeds are posted.

20 M. P. H. Near Schools

Twenty miles an hour will be the maximum speed while passing a school house when the children are outside.

Other speed limits:

Twenty-five miles an hour in all portions of a municipality excepting state routes and through-highways outside business districts; and thirty-five miles an hour on state routes and through highways within a municipality outside business districts.

Local authorities may change the maximum speed limits on thoroughfares within their jurisdiction if they are able to obtain approval of the highway director. They may never, however, set the maximum above 50 miles an hour.

Can Arrest Slow Drivers

The slow driver also must watch his speedometer. If he is driving so slow as to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic, he may be arrested.

The only vehicles not bound by the various speed limits are fire department, police and highway patrol cars and other emergency vehicles of municipalities or public utilities, ambulances and the like when properly identified.

Theatre Attractions

Something brand new in the way of screen entertainment is Warner Bros.' dramatic picture, "Underground," which had its first local showing yesterday at the State and runs tonight and Saturday. Packing all the power, thrills and excitement of a death struggle for freedom, the film tells in dramatic fashion an amazing story. The film stars Jeffrey Lynn, Kaaren Verne, Philip Dorn and Mona Maris.

In his latest picture, Republic's "Nevada City," Roy Rogers is seen at the Grand today through Saturday. George ("Gabby") Hayes is seen as an old-timer, thoroughly frightened at and suspicious of trains. Yet, in real life, he has done more traveling by rail than any 80 average persons, having spent years with stock companies as an actor.

PHILADELPHIA — If there was any feeling of excessive pride among 30 men waiting to enlist at the army recruiting station here, it must have shriveled away when William Chester walked in to sign up. Chester, chauffeur for Brig. Gen. William McCain, enlisted for his ninth term.
